

This is the season when most clothiers complain of "dull times," and quietly rest on their oars. We don't do business that way. Instead of "resting" we cut prices to crowd the store. For instance, look at the great success our $6.25 sale of Men's Suits met with.

Now we're going to turn your attention to the boys. We're going to give them a taste of our "panacea" for dull times. We are offering the balance of our $2.50, PI IN $3, $3.50 and $4 Boys' Suits, broken lots, but all sizes in the lot, about 300 in all, for While all Washington was happy in the anticipation of the feicity of The Times' great dicycle parade, "Scrappy" Hill" and his band were being shunghtered in farouff St. Louis by Herr Breitenstein, assisted by eight other bark Brown ragainds. The carnage was complete. Herr "Breit," he of the brick-dust hair and southpaw delivery, repeated his former feats of making monkeys out of the state-smen. He had them hitting space and everything else, except the ball, and when they would land on the sphere it had so many twists and curely-ke ws hung on to it, that in every listance, except eight, it danced into some waiting Belder's hands. If ever a pitcher had a club Jonahed and at his mercy, Breitenstein has the Semators in such possession. The duck-legged Dutchman owns "Scrappy" and his colleagues waen he facesthem in the box, and manipulates them as so many marionettes.

By losing the Senators dropped a place, as Philadelphia, strange to say, won from Chicago, The Colts must havelet the Quakers get a back hold or grew careless and allowed them to trip them up when they weren't looking. But anyhow the Phillies won and usurped eighth position. As was to be expected, Baltimore beat Louisville, the Colones making eight bad errors in their fruitless endeavor against the champions. Patsy's Spiders made it two out of three from Archur Irwin's alieged Giants. Patsy kindly spared the "Joints" the humiliation of a shat-out by allowing them to score in the seventh imning. Dave Fout's Troley Dodgers made a plucky fight against Back's Asionishing Braves but were shy a couple of runs to win when the total was added up after the ninth inning. As it is stylish to get whitewashed in Pitts-burg, Boston got in the swim and were contection tensor got in the swim and were contection tensor got in the swim and were contection to under the swim and were contection to the screen by a couple of runs to win the put the total was added up after the ninth inning. As it is stylish to get whitewashed st. Louis, July 14.—Theodosius Breitenstein, "the Titiah-haired model of daplicity" who occasionally holds forth in the pitcher's box for the Browns, is rapidly becoming notorious for his reversals in form.

It is no longer ago than hast Saturday since be was hammered all over Sportsman's Park by the Postons. The bean consumers simply sinughtered him. He hadn't changed a bit when he entered the box to face the Senatorial gathering from Washington. His hair was yetof that term cotta color, and by actual count the same namber of freckies ornamented his face.

And yet Bill Joyce's players could notget their bats within a block of Breitenstein's curves today. It was not owing to the differences in the players, because only a short month before in Boston Theodoreman blanked the Hubites for nine successive innings. Therefore the only natural conclusion to be arrived at is that Theodore was "pulled" the last time out.

For five innings today's game was a battle royan. At the end of the lifth the score stood two to one, with the Browns leading. In the slatting the local men became exceedingly familiar with the curves of Win Mercer. They cracked out seven base hits and the Washington outrield added a couple of errors, so that when the Browns were finally disposed of for the Dining they had increased their total to six rans and clinehed the game to a certainty.

Outside of that one inning neither of the pitchers suffered to any extent. Breitenstein held the visitors down to four hits up to the ninth, when they got three singles without a run.

'TWAS LADIES' DAY, TOO.

It was ladies' day and quite a good growed.

TWAS LADIES' DAY, TOO.

It was ladies' day and quite a good crowd was out to see the game. Washington scored a run in the first inning. Lush, the first man up, struck out, but O'Brien singled and took second when Terner juggled the ball. Monte Cross contributed an error on Seibach sgrounder, and O'Brien scored on Joyce's out. McGuire then drew a gift, but Seibach was caught at the plate when the Washington catcher tried to stenl second. Councr singled and Parrott sacrificed. Then Meyers hit safely into left and Roger tallied.

In the fifth the local men took the lead. McFarland by good running stretched a single into a double. Bretenstein's sacrifice put him on third. Douglass singled, and "Mac" went home.

In the sixth the Browns took a big lead by chalking up six runs, Connor walked to first on balls. Parrott tried to sacrifice, but failed, and a strike was called on him. He tried it again and the ball went on a fly over third base, and droppled foul. Lynch refused to call it a strike, as it was batted over the infield.

BILL JOYCE'S ORATION. 'TWAS LADIES' DAY, TOO.

BILL JOYCE'S ORATION. Bill Joyce delivered a Bryanic oration, but to no avail. He failed absolutely in his effort to convince the umpire that it was an attempt to bunt. On the next ball pitched, Parrott swiped hard and missed. Then he tried to bunt and the bail proved to be a foul fly, which McGuire could not reach. Bill Joyce kicked again. Then Parrott swiped the next one past second for a single. Meyers bunted safely, and Bill Joyce delivered a Bryanic oration at to no avail. He failed absolutely i

PHILLIES WON A GAME.

GREAT GAME FOR THE REDS.

Intensely Exciting Contest in Which Brooklyn Lost. Intensely Exciting Contest in Which Brooklyn Lost.

Cincinnati, July 14.—Today's game was the most exciting of the season and the wildest scene ever witnessed at the Cincinnati ball park occurred when Burke crossed the pate in the inith scoring the winting run. Time was called in the sixth inuing on account of rain. Up to this time neither side had scored, but Hoy was on second and no one out. When play was resumed McPhee singled to left and Hoy scored the first run of the game. When Brooklyn came in for their half of the seventh the grounds were sloppy and the locals went to pieces, the visitors scoring four runs on errors. The Reds made a grand rally in the eighth by bunching their hits and succeeded in theing the score. Brooklyn went out in one, two, three order in the unith, and for Cincinnati Burke led off with a jut, went to second on Hoy's sacrifice and scored on Miller's single to center. Attendance, 4,000.
